

Furniture for Public Spaces – The Finishes

As a pandemic continues to challenge, we must recognize that finish selection plays a critical role in creating safe environments for every public space. Product features, once considered exclusive to the healthcare sector, are now the “new norm.” This live virtual session will continually evolve as forward-thinking, furniture manufacturers respond to the demands of today with the knowledge that the next superbug could be right around the corner.

Upon completion of this learning experience, you will understand:

- the importance of infection control for public spaces
- the role of the infection control officer
- the difference between cleaning and disinfecting
- the process for cleaning & disinfecting
- how impact improper cleaning & disinfecting protocols can impact life
- the product warranty vs. the fabric warranty
- the additional product options that will enhance your customers ROI

This is a short training session lasting approximately 1.5 hours.

The ideal candidate for this course is a salesperson who is new to the office furniture industry.
